Fighting Thalassemia Together

Ritu

Tirupathi & Sarita are distant cousin, parents in the childhood decided to get them marriage when they grow to be of a marriageable age. They grew up to be adults and got married at the age of 23 & 19.

Soon after a year they were blessed with a daughter Ritu. She was born with a weight of 3 Kg and had good health but as 2 months passed she started getting thinner and pale. This lead to fever and her health started getting impacted to an extent that the child was not able to sit or move. In such a condition they took the child to the hospital where the Doctor diagnosed the condition to be Thalassemia.

Parents were unaware of the condition of thalassemia. They felt it to be an ordinary situation like any other fever or cold that would eventually get treated and the child will be fine. After a month the situation was again the same. This time parents decided to consultant another Doctor thinking that the previous doctor has not treated their child well. This new doctor also used the same term Thalassemia and suggested blood Transfusion and told that your child has a condition that require lifelong blood transfusion to live healthy. The child would go pale and dull and also might get fever if there is a delay in blood transfusion as the child is suffering from a condition called Thalassemia, in such cases the body is not able to prepare its own blood and have to depend on donated blood.

As Tirupathi is a railway employee he has free facility however the process is very cumbersome That is when one of his friend suggested about TSCS which has simple procedure and the child can be treated and discharged on the same day. This was good for the family and they started coming to TSCS.

Parents find this place to be very comfortable they learn the right Thalassemia management not just from the doctors and Nurses but also from the experienced patients. They find that the blood given for free in TSCS is fresh and transfusion assistance is very good. Time to time regular check and doctor's consultancy helps in bringing the child in healthy manner. TSCS helps each child to see the opportunities he or she has, not the limitations.

Help your child see the opportunities he or she has, not the limitations.

COVID-19 PARENTING

Keeping It Positive

It's hard to feel positive when our kids or teenagers are driving us crazy. We often end up saying "Stop doing that!" But children are much more likely to do what we ask if we give them positive instructions and lots of praise for what they do right.

Say the behaviour you want to see

- Use positive words when telling your child what to do; like 'Please put your clothes away' (instead of 'Don't make a mess')

It's all in the delivery

- Shouting at your child will just make you and them more stressed and angrier. Get your child's attention by using their name. Speak in a calm voice.

Get real

- Can your child actually do what you are asking them? It is very hard for a child to keep quiet inside for a whole day but maybe they can keep quiet for 15 minutes while you are on a call.

Praise your child when they are behaving well

- Try praising your child or teenager for something they have done well. They may not show it, but you'll see them doing that good thing again. It will also reassure them that you notice and care.

Help your teen stay connected

- Teens especially need to be able to communicate with their friends. Help your teen connect through social media and other safe distancing ways. This is something you can do together, too!
